STORYTELLERS

AMY ASKERLUND

Amy is an emergency room nurse, fitness coach, adventure seeker, and avid podcast consumer. She and her husband Lance have a blended family of 7 children. She loves playing (and winning) New York Times Connections, going out to breakfast, paddle boarding around lakes, dense bean salads, bedtime, and Chappell Roan. Every year on her birthday she hikes Lake Blanche and challenges everyone to do a random act of kindness.

DONNA BALUCHI

Donna Baluchi is driven by her Do-It-Yourself ethos. You're most likely to find them making zines, going to all-ages punk shows, or voicing their opinions on Salt Lake City's limited falafel options. As a medical librarian, she endeavors to create an atmosphere across communities and within classrooms that is accessible, welcoming, psychologically safe, and inclusive. She is genuinely proud to say that she has never once shushed a library patron – but at least once a semester, a patron will shush her.

INDIGENOUS LAND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The University of Utah has both historical and contemporary relationships with Indigenous Peoples. Given that the Salt Lake Valley has always been a gathering place for Indigenous Peoples, we acknowledge that this land, which is named for the Ute Tribe, is the traditional and ancestral homelands of the Shoshone, Paiute, Goshute, and Ute Tribes and is a crossroad for Indigenous Peoples.

The University of Utah recognizes the enduring relationships between many Indigenous Peoples and their traditional homelands. We are grateful for the territory upon which we gather today; we respect Utah's Indigenous Peoples, the original stewards of this land; and we value the sovereign relationships that exist between tribal governments, state governments, and the federal government.

Today, approximately 60,000 American Indian and Alaska Native peoples live in Utah. As a state institution, the University of Utah is committed to serving Native communities throughout Utah in partnership with Native Nations and our Urban Indian communities through research, education, and community outreach activities.

EMILY ERICKSON

Emily is an OG employee at Huntsman Cancer Hospital, her first shift off nursing orientation was the first day the hospital opened. She has worked at Huntsman Cancer Hospital for over 20 years, first as a nurse and for the last 15 years as a nurse practitioner. Currently she works with breast and lung cancer patients and provides support to other Advanced Practice Clinicians (APC's) as Associate APC Lead with the Division of Medical Oncology. She is happily married to Bill. The greatest joy and challenge of her life has been raising 6 kids with Bill. They love spending time together in the great outdoors hiking, biking, skiing, and camping.

PATRICK OCKERSE

Patrick is fueled by curiosity and creativity, whether in his work as an Emergency Physician and Chief Wellness Officer at Northern Navajo Medical Center or in his everyday adventures. He finds joy in playing music, cooking, and riding bikes, often alongside his amazing wife and three children, who share his love for travel and the outdoors. A lifelong learner, Patrick once had the honor (and humbling experience) of losing a chess match to GZA of the Wu-Tang Clan. He is also an avid gnome collector.

PHIL GEORGE

Phil George has worked at the Neilsen Rehab Hospital since it opened. He moved there from the main hospital. He loves the patients and staff at the hospital. Prior to that he has mostly worked in food manufacturing facilities as plant manager and quality assurance manager, including a butter plant, a soup factory and twenty five years in ice cream plants. Phil enjoys various creative endeavors including art and writing. In recent years he has been producing art projects and posting them on Instagram under the handle @DDFELLOWS. He hopes to make a few bucks sketching portraits and pet portraits after he retires. Phil enjoys being with his wife and three daughters and as the nest has emptied he and his wife have become regulars on the cruise ship scene.

SASHI GOTETI

Sashi is a passionate family man, husband to his best friend and wife, whom he has known since high school, and father to the best 3.5-year-old daughter. He loves traveling and hiking with his family and is an avid fan of JRR Tolkien's work, the show "The Big Bang Theory," Astrophysics, and Harry Potter.

Professionally, Sashi is a Pediatric Hematologist who practices at Primary Children's Hospital/University of Utah.

KATTY YOUND (Master of Ceremonies)

Katty Del Pilar Youd is a wife, mama, polyglot, balloon artist, and proud daughter of Peruvian immigrants. Growing up, she would constantly hear stories of beloved ancestors, which was a way to connect to her family's land and history. Storytelling is as powerful as it is beautiful; Katty uses this skill in her everyday work in equity, diversity and inclusion. Storytelling also proves beneficial when Katty pretends to be a dinosaur that is tired and ready for bed so her kids will get to bed, too.

PRODUCTION TEAM

BETHANY JOY BURR (Marketing Manager) moved from small-town Utah to Manhattan at 18 to attend NYU, study books, and become a writer, filmmaker, and storyteller. She returned to Utah by way of California and is now the Marketing & Communications Manager for the Osher Center for Integrative Health. This month she'll celebrate her one-year wedding anniversary to her high school sweetheart. They married in their hometown after being separated for fifteen years – and that's her favorite story.

GRETCHEN CASE (Director) is passionate about the impact of the arts in healthcare and education. She is the Director of the U's Center for Health Ethics, Arts, and Humanities and a faculty member in the Dept. of Theatre and the Dept. of Internal Medicine. A performer, a director, and a writer, Gretchen comes from a long line of people who could happily tell a story to a wall if nobody else is available to listen.

MEGAN CALL (Producer) is the Director of the Resiliency Center with University of Utah Health. As a psychologist and a health educator, she knows how sharing stories is transformative for both the storyteller and the listener. She especially loves when space is created for the dialectic, where two conflicting ideas or experiences are true at the same time.

BETSY HOLM (Program Manager) is a dedicated dog-mom, reader and wanderer who has worked at the U of U since 2014. She watches way too many horror movies (usually while knitting), loves spontaneous road trips and stopping at every Little Free Library she comes across. Betsy has a personal mission to make and give away as many friendship bracelets as possible.

(Hey, it's 1980!) But, when Kira falls into forbidden love with the mortal Sonny, her jealous sisters take advantage of the situation, and chaos abounds.
